

Hand Over Document Banshee AR Application

In order to advance the application forward, the application will require basic knowledge of Unity's UI and the hierarchy system within the application.

The application also contains 13 active scripts within the build, however it should be unlikely the editing of the scripts will need to go ahead, as the application is ready to be deployed. Experienced C sharp developers may need to oversee the additional development of the application in the future.

In order to deploy the application, the latest version of Unity and Xcode will need to be installed on the hard drive of the operating system of the device. When the next version of the application is ready to be deployed and you will have to go File>Build and Run.
